Responsibility for minors

BLS is not liable for all the actions or deeds of students under the age of 18 (minors), it is only liable for actions or deeds that occur during the period of time when the school has a duty of care to the student, in accordance with the provisions of article 1384 al 1 of the French Civil Code.

If the student fails to attend lessons or extracurricular activities, BLS cannot accept any liability for the behaviour of the student during this time.

Off school premises and in the context of the extracurricular activities suggested by BLS, the parent of the student remains fully responsible for the student.

The host family cannot be held responsible for the minor student for the period of time when the student is in the care of the host family.

Both during extracurricular activities authorised by the student's parents, and during the time spent with the host family, the parent of the student remains fully responsible for the student.

The role of the host family is not to educate or supervise the minor, but only to provide board and lodging and to ensure that the time spent with the family is agreeable. No delegation of parental authority is transferred to the host family and the temporary separation of the minor from the family home does not impair the cohabitation relationship as it is understood in a French legal sense.

The parents are wholly responsible for their child at all times other than when BLS has a duty of care to the child, in accordance with the provisions of article 1384 al 4 of the French Civil Code.

I, as Father or Mother or guardian, of the undersigned student, do hereby authorise the BLS staff or the host family to consent to any X-ray examinations, anaesthetic, medical surgical diagnosis, treatment or hospital care which is advisable by and is rendered under the general supervision of a licensed physician or surgeon. We also agree that if the applicant becomes ill or incapacitated, BLS may take such actions as it considers necessary including securing medical treatment and transporting the applicant home at his own expense. We release BLS from all liability related to such actions. The students must notify prior to the programme any serious medical problems.

I hereby confirm that I have read BLS' Terms & Conditions and have contracted out an insurance covering civil liability, personal accident, illness and repatriation, loss and theft of luggage and personal belongings.
